PIETRA CEPPO

Inspired by the one the greatest classic stone quarried for hundreds of years near Mount Clemo a few kilometers north of Milan. The stone has been used to ornate the facades of some of the city's beautiful architectural landmarks. It gained its popularity due to its unique natural conglomerate formation and attractive appearance. We now bring you the Pietra Ceppo in a full-bodied European porcelain offering all the technical benefits of stoneware whilst celebrating the aesthetic uniqueness in three shades as it occurs in nature.
